

Introducing to the Mississippi River the Louisiane

Gulf Waterways: Intracoastal Waterway Cruises

The Louisiane is returning French ambiance to the Mississippi River, embracing the heritage that makes the region's culture, cuisine, language and history unique. This 150-passenger boat will be swaying down the river to jazz in the French Quarter Lounge, and you'll be lulled to sleep each night in comfort. Every detail on this boat has been carefully taken care of; the crew will have it for you before you even know you need it, whether that's a cold towel when you come back from your shore excursion, or a sweet treat on your pillow when you're ready for bed. Enjoy a full Southern-inspired breakfast, menu created by Chef de Cuisine Regina Charboneau, or grab a beignet and café au lait on the Veranda.
